Effective Parkinson's Speech Therapy

Imagine being a part of a speech therapy clinic that has developed an evidence-based, life-altering program for individuals diagnosed with Parkinson's and related disorders.

Imagine being a part of a speech therapy clinic that doesn't charge for its services, doesn't have a billing office, and is not concerned with insurance or Medicare coverage.

Imagine being able to provide patients with as much speech therapy as needed to regain and retain their speech and swallowing abilities.

Imagine working for an organization that genuinely cares about its employees and their well-being and promotes a four-day workweek while offering competitive salaries, bonuses, and generous benefits.

Parkinson Voice Project is seeking a full-time Speech-Language Pathologist (SLP) at its headquarters in Richardson, Texas to evaluate and treat individuals diagnosed with Parkinson's and related disorders.

The ideal candidate will be a Texas-licensed, ASHA-certified speech-language pathologist with at least 5 years of clinical experience and an understanding of motor learning principles.

Caring for individuals living with a chronic, degenerative condition is more than just a job... it's a calling... and our new SLP will be sensitive to this reality and will reflect empathy throughout each patient's journey.

Our future SLP will genuinely care about every patient's well-being and will demonstrate through deliberate, thoughtful actions that Parkinson Voice Project is with our patients for the long haul.

This SLP will go the extra mile to help our patients, whether it's by providing referrals, hopping on a Zoom call to educate their family, checking in on them with a simple phone call, or answering questions about swallowing disorders and cognitive challenges.

Our future SLP will be passionate and genuinely humbled by the opportunity to play a key role in Parkinson Voice Project's vision of making quality speech treatment accessible to people with Parkinson's worldwide.

If you want to be part of a genuine, efficient, and high-performing team while profoundly impacting the lives of people with Parkinson's and their families, please apply. Parkinson Voice Project offers a competitive salary with bonuses, healthcare benefits, and a 401k plan with a 5% match. This benefit-eligible position is scheduled for 32 hours per week, typically Monday through Thursday, with optional Friday hours available.

To apply, please send your resume with a cover letter to Brittany Scott, Lead Speech-Language Pathologist, at bscott@ParkinsonVoiceProject.org. Applications submitted to LinkedIn will not be reviewed.
